3. It elects the president, with electors from each state based on the number of representatives and the two senators combined voting. They usually choose the candidate who has received the most popular votes in that state.
4. It was created because they didn't want people to vote that didn't really know what they were doing. Also, a long time ago people didn't get to know the candidates enough because of poor communication and transportation. (Also it was created so leaders weren't only campaigning in big states and it makes every state matter, even little states.)
